TO ATTEND EGGART-WOLFE WEDDING.

Mrs. L. A. Eakins and daughter, Miss Minnie Eva Eakins, of Mobile, arrived Friday night to attend the wedding of Miss Mary Wolfe and Mr. C. W. Eggart, which takes place Wednesday. While here they are the guests of Judge and Mrs. J. Emmett Wolfe, and Mrs. O. E. McReynolds.

STAG SUPPER FOR MR. SCOTT.

Among recent delightful courtesies paid Mr. Walter Scott and his charming young bride-elect, Miss Cleo Johnson, was a supper with which Mr. Scott was complimented by Messrs. Ed. Creighton and Mr. Joe Febro, the young men paying their courtesy in the form of a stag supper, a number of the girl friends surprising them at 8:30.

The living room was very charming in its decorations of cut flowers and potted plants, and the dining-room was most attractive in yellow and white, exquisite large yellow chrysanthemums used on the dining table. Miss Elsie Scott served a dainty salad course during the evening, and music was enjoyed. Mr. Otto Ortel singing selections which added much to the pleasure of the guests.

Mr. Febro and Mr. Creighton will be groomsmen of the wedding of Mr. Scott to Miss Johnson on November 25.

Among those enjoying this delightful hospitality, besides the honor guest, were:

Joe Febro, Ed. Creighton, Walter Colvin, George Johnson, Earl Ortel, Ross Johnson, Otto Ortel, Harry Febro, Herbert Pfeiffer, Wilber Langford, Drew Sims, Miss Lois Stuckey of Anniston, Ala.; Miss Selma Burpee, Miss Eva Mae Johnson, Miss Elsie Scott, Miss Cleo Johnson, Mrs. Otto Ortel, Mrs. Geo. Johnson, Mrs. W. R. Hill, Mrs. J. T. Scott.

MRS. BINGHAM HOSTESS TO FIVE HUNDRED CLUB.

Mrs. F. F. Bingham was hostess yesterday afternoon at the San Carlos hotel to the members of the Five Hundred Club and a number of other friends, invited to meet her guest, Miss Orpha Bingham, of Michigan.

Card tables were placed on the mezzanine floor of the hotel, and the game proved one of the most delightful of the many recent courtesies of the club. Refreshments were served on the small tables after the game.

Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Bingham's courtesy were: Misses Ocie Clubbs, Edith Lusk, Florence Marston, Nell Burrow, Bessie Lindentruth, Mrs. J. McL. Gillis, Mrs. W. H. Northup, Mrs. C. M. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. C. W. Upp, Miss Bogart, Miss Lillie Williams, Mrs. Ed Fox, Mrs. Henry Yonge, Miss Margaret Oweley, Miss Florence Halsey, Mrs. Harry Gibbs, Miss Kate Wentworth, Miss Ellie Wentworth, Mrs. Dan Sheppard, Mrs. Lee Daniels, Mrs. Wallace Lamar, Mrs. Cleve Hester, Miss Marjorie Yonge, Mrs. J. C. Long, Mrs. P. L. Brown, Mrs. A. R. Bingham, Mrs. Luce, of Springfield, Ill., Miss Dorothy Bingham, Mrs. Ed Gale Quinn, Mrs. C. S. Bonacker, Mrs. C. E. Driver, Mrs. Dick Carroll, Mrs. Frank Marston, Mrs. Frank L. Mayes, Mrs. Frank Welles.

RICHARDSON-GAVIN WEDDING SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peterson was the scene of a very lovely wedding yesterday afternoon when the pastor of the Gahaden Street Methodist church united in marriage Miss Fannie Gavin and Mr. Plowden W. Richardson.

Those present were the bride's mother, Mrs. Fannie Gavin, Mr. and Mrs. Will Richards, and Mrs. Richardson, mother of the groom.

The bride was very charming in a coat suit of King's Blue, with hat and accessories to match.

The announcement of the wedding of Miss Gavin and Mr. Richardson will be of interest not only in Pensacola but throughout West Florida and South Alabama, where the bride, who is a daughter of the Rev. C. W. Gavin, is well known.

Mr. Richardson, too, has many friends here who will offer him and his bride their sincere good wishes.

"SMILE."

The following helpful excerpt has been sent in to this department and is published, so that its message may reach others:

"It is easy enough to be pleasant. When Life flows by like a song, But the man worth while Is the man that will smile, When everything goes dead wrong."

Whether the above is quoted correctly or not, we do not know, but the idea is there, and after all that is the main thing. It is an extremely difficult matter to smile at all times, and especially so when business is not going as freely as it did before the war began. Every cloud, however, has its silver lining, and sooner or later we will be smiling as of old. In the meantime, try to help matters along a little by bearing with patience the ill humor of some of your friends and try to make them look at matters in a different light. You cannot catch flies with vinegar. It takes sugar, or other sweets. You cannot make friends and customers by looking gloomy and talking that way. You must put on a pleasant smile whether you mean it or not. It is not hypocritical. Try it. You will see that it is contagious. One smile brings on another, and the whole world feels better. Now is the time if ever there was a time to smile, and keep on smiling.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR MISS MARY WOLFE.

A beautiful courtesy of Saturday afternoon was the miscellaneous shower given in compliment to Miss Mary Wolfe by her aunt, Mrs. J. Emmett Wolfe, at her home on North Palafax street.

The decorations in the hall and parlor were a profusion of golden-rod, ferns and Southern smilax and following this color scheme was the bride's book in yellow with green ribbons in which each guest was asked to write her name.

Miss Lulu Thames delighted the guests with two solos: "I Love You Truly," and "The Perfect Day," her fresh, sweet voice never more beautiful, while Miss Mae Wilkinson was at her best in an appropriate reading, "The Letter," responding to an encore with "His Kisses."

The colors in the dining-room were pink and white, the bride's table being centered with pink carnations on a plateau of crystal, the handsome table cover looped with streamers of tulle caught with pink carnations, while these same stately flowers with asparagus fern adorned the mantle.

Little Misses Susie May Wolfe and Ivan Wheat, in white lingerie dresses with pink ribbons served the dainty ice course, which consisted of ice cream in the form of pink hearts, and angel food cake with pink heart-shaped mints.

The favors were tiny bride's slippers, in pink and white filled with flower petals, which were showered on the bride-to-be.

Much merriment was occasioned by verses to the bride, which were read by the guests.

Master Earl Wolfe, the fine little son of the hostess, as cupid, presented the bride-to-be with a huge silver "horn of plenty" adorned with the word, "Mary" in gold letters, and hung across his back with gold ribbons, bearing the gifts, which were dainty and exquisite pieces of lingerie and linen and beautiful silver and china.

Mrs. Wolfe was assisted in entertaining by Miss Minnie Eva Eakins of Mobile, and Mrs. O. E. McReynolds. Mrs. Wolfe's hospitality on this occasion was charming, about forty guests enjoying the afternoon.

MISS CURTIS RETURNS THIS WEEK.

Miss May Curtis is expected home Thursday, and the news of her expected return will be most gratifying to many friends, who have feared the lure of the eastern cities might prevail on Miss Curtis to remain north for the season. But New England, and even New York, with the anticipation of ice and snow, are not able to compete with Pensacola's blue skies and golden sunshine.

Miss Curtis has been a guest of her brother and other relatives in Boston, has been studying the new dances there and in New York, and is now spending a delightful vacation at Tarry-town-on-the-Hudson.

LADIES' AID FIRST BAPTIST.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church will meet Monday afternoon at three o'clock and as there is business of much importance to come before the meeting it is hoped that all members will be present.

MEETING NEW CITY THIMBLE CLUB.

The New City Thimble Club will meet on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Robert Hilliard on Ninth avenue.

EGGART-WOLFE WEDDING AT HIGH NOON WEDNESDAY.

MRS. PHILLIPS HOSTESS AT CIVIC LEAGUE TEA

Beautiful in its adornment of flowers and bright with music, the home of Mrs. James F. Phillips presented a very charming scene on Friday afternoon when Mrs. Phillips entertained at one of the Civic League receptions that have become a delightful part of Pensacola's social life.

The living-room was beautifully decorated in white and crimson, the fragrant stars of Jessamine and the glowing blossoms of the Salvia carrying out the note of color.

In the dining-room white and yellow were the colors used, here the handsome blooms of white and yellow chrysanthemums having been used with most artistic effect.

Misses Christine Morrison, Mary Cary and Margaret Wilhelm served tea, hot biscuits and sandwiches. Mr. Conger, Lieut. U. S. M. C., who was among those who assisted in the historic clean-up campaign in Panama, read a very interesting paper, advocating a clean-up campaign for Pensacola.

Mrs. A. Moog talked most interestingly of the work of the league and Mrs. Malcolm White contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon with a recitation from Kipling.

The Civic League has planned to have this series of entertainments to run through the winter months, always preceding the regular monthly meeting, which is the second Wednesday in each month.

HANDIWORK OF LITTLE BOY.

Among the many fine specimen displayed at school 74 at the recent meeting of the Home and School League, was a large basket of rafia, beautifully woven, the work of a little boy in the third grade, Regas Stovro. Both the child and his teacher, Miss Eva Waters, deserve much credit for this fine specimen of handiwork.

CABANISS-THIESEN WEDDING NOVEMBER 24.

The following invitations have been sent to friends both in the city and out-of-town:

"Mr. and Mrs. Christen Uetrup Thiesen request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Elizabeth, to Mr. Royston Cabaniss, on Tuesday, the twenty-fourth of November, at eight o'clock in the evening, at the Evangelical Lutheran church, Pensacola, Florida."

Much sincere interest centers in the wedding of this charming Pensacola girl to one of Atlanta's progressive young business men, for both are very popular in their home cities.

Ten cakes Octagon or Ivory soap for 25 cents, with each purchase of $1.00 or more Monday's at The Crystal Pharmacy.
